Planet Piodus was created in 200 BEB (Before Earth Began) because of an unknown disturbance with the sun and oncoming meteors.

The Piodans discovered this unique planet in about 20 BEB and they started to build their colony. They have lived on Piodus ever since.

Piodans live an extremely long life because of their complex brains and second heart.

Piodans believe in the Piodan Code.

A certain Emperor can rein the planet for a millennium.

Any Piodan that disobeys the Piodan Code gets sent to a different planet (usually Earth because the Humans and Piodans are similar in size and appearance) with their memory erased.

The Emperor's wife has no say or action with the planet. She sits quietly and obeys her husband. To her it is still the Emperor and not her husband.

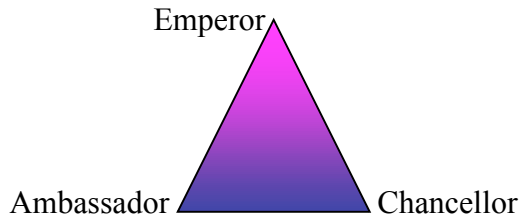

The current Emperor is Papidos. He has ruled the planet for over 400 years. The first Emperor, which was Emperor Piodus, ruled the planet well over 800 years but died from a surprise invasion from a distant planet. His son then took over.

Pioso is a ritual where the Piodans worship their God. This God is similar to the God that Humans worship. The Piodans only have one religion, which is mentioned in the Piodan Code.

Piodans are a very smart but extremely lazy and clumsy species. They forget everything. They do what they like and no one tells them what to do. Piodans believe that they can do something to you but you cannot do anything back to them. For example they can hit and annoy you and if you try and hit back they will attack.

The planet is a very green one, which looks somewhat like Neptune and Earth. It is a warm planet filled with trees, shrubs, flowers, grass, and mountains. The planet is quite small. Bodies of water and land divide the planet. It doesn't have many technological things but besides Piodans animals also cover this planet.

The highest rank of the Piodan is Emperor. Following him is the Ambassador and then Chancellor. The triangle below resembles their ranks of power.

The palace where these men live looks like a pyramid and resembles the symbol above. It is a very expensive and elegant palace.

Legend has it that a young Piodan by the name of Piode was born with a brain and one heart. Since this rare birth was against the Code and Piode had more Human characteristics than Piodan, the Emperor sent him to Earth with his memory erased. This Human Piodan is called Blake on Earth.
